“ I worked with Amy at the Aviation Weather Center in Kansas City, MO. We had many wonderful moments; sharing meals and favorite pictures of family, vacations and of course Stevi. My favorite time with Amy was sitting at her desk, looking at her pictures, talking about meteorology (myself as a MET wanna be that would make her laugh), previous and upcoming vacations, and life in general. She was a blessing to many. Her family, work and personal, are in my thoughts and prayers.

“ My dear friend Amy was beautiful on the outside and the inside. She was always thoughtful and more concerned with others than herself. She will always be an inspiration for me ... to help me remember to look out for others. I know she's with her Lord and somehow with us too. Lord, thank You for letting us travel on this earth with Amy!

“ I worked with Amy at the Storm Prediction Center in Norman. She was always a joy to talk with whether it was work related or shared interests outside of work. Her warm and friendly demeanor definitely made the workplace more inviting and her enthusiasm and love of meteorology was clear. She will be missed. Her family and friends are in my prayers. — Liz Leitman

“ I am so sorry for the loss of Amy and will be continually praying for Janis, Ken, Stevi, and the family. I will miss everything about Amy and consider myself beyond blessed to have been her friend. She was the epitome of Love and was a blessing to everyone who knew her. To know Amy was to love her! I will miss our brunches to Big Biscuit, Cracker Barrel, Kate's Kitchen, etc..., her delicious baking (especially her amazing cupcakes), and all of our special times together. I will hold her close in my heart forever and will never forget her bright blue eyes and beautiful smile. Fly high with the angels, sweet girl! I Love You Amy!
