Betty was born and raised in Independence, MO, to Vida May and Andrew J. Williams. She lived most of her formative years in Independence working for Montgomery Ward's, Lake City Arsenal before staying home to raise their grandson Christopher. She met and married Everett Franklin (Slim) Ware and had 2 children. She and Everett moved to Warsaw, MO to retire.

Betty loved flower gardening and being outside; fishing was always high on her favorites along with any kind of card or board games and BINGO. She loved her family and life.

Betty was preceded in death by her husband; parents; daughter, Kathleen Ware Durbin Chavez; grandson, Christopher Durbin; and her sister, Andrea June Mitchell. She leaves her son Frank and daughter-n-law Carol Ware; and 2 granddaughters, Shelly Ives, her husband Gordon, granddaughter, Angela McCown, husband Mark; 5 great grandchildren; and 6 great great grandchildren; a brother Albert (Bo) and his wife Irene Williams; and many nieces and nephews and adopted kids and their children and friends. A special thank you to Beautiful Savior Lutheran Home, Belton, MO. For the love and care and to Grace Hospice for the care and comfort the last few days of Betty's life.
