“ David Clemence was my father, due to divorce and remarriage that happened in our family, I didn't meet him until I was almost 17 years old, but we did establish a father daughter relationship. There were good times and bad as with any relationship. I'm glad I got to know him. I have two sisters through him, half sisters, Valerie and Stephanie. Dad also has a brother still living, uncle Mark. The four of us should have definitely been named in this obituary, but it is what it is. Thank you for posting this obituary, otherwise I would've never known my father had passed away. Goodbye dad.
