“ My dad was the best man ive ever known. He was always so kind and generous would give his last dollar to anyone. He would help anyone how asked him for help. It takes a special person to claim and raise children who are not his biological children and not even be in a relationship with there mother. My dad would take me fishing & camping all the time and target shooting. Every time he went to walmart he would come by and say hey kido you wanna go to walmart with me with a big smile on his face. We would spend hours there. Dad loved to shop. Dad loved to gamble as well his favorite place was Ameristar Casino would play video poker all night. He was always there for every occasion i had from graduations, was there at the hospital for birth of my children and even spent the hospital stay with me, walking me down the aisle and gave me away to my wonderful husband. If i was sick he would baby me with soups ,soda and movies. He was the best Dad ever. I love you Daddy.
