“ Awhile ago, I was thinking of Heather - not knowing what was happening to her body - and I sent her a text reminding her about a time an angry customer (with whom she had been working with) came to the service desk and was yelling at me - I'd had a rough day - it was in the middle of the pandemic and I started to cry. I called Heather for assistance because I didn't know the history. She came up front and after the man left - she said “screw no touching” and gave me a big hug! That is the kind of person Heather was - and will continue to be for her family.

Heather was a wise, spicy and kind woman! My heart is with her family - someone told me once “it doesn't get easier, it gets different.” May the grief you all are feeling sit with you as long as you need. Thank you for helping her be the person she was. - Ryan Wilson

“ Going on a weekly Starbucks run every Tuesday morning to help Lisa Adams get through opening shift and Heather and I dealing with crazy customers. We also went and got our nails done multiple times, as she loved her color changing dip polish. Will miss her dearly. Love you Heather! Lisa Mahoney
