I had no idea. Again Marilyn, I am so sorry for your losses. Four of my elders and my baby brother all died with two years, so I know how much more painful multiple loss can be... May they both Rise In Peace & Power, and May You in time past the grieving Rise In Peace with Good Cheer! Feel free to take encouragement from www.RiseInPeace.org.

“ June, I still can't believe that you are gone. Today was really rough without you. Folk don't understand that I just didn't lose my brother but that I lost my best friend. Since the death of our mother (1979) we have been each others back bone. We loved each other unconditionally and we never took steps without the other knowing about it. I know I will never be able to have that type of love or trust in anyone. Now that I sit back and think about different things that you said and did towards the end, you did them because you knew that your time was close. I'm going to miss you like crazy and will never ever forget you!!!! Love you always!!! Your only sister!!!
