“ My Aunt Sue was the kindest most loving caring human being I've ever known! She loved her kids grand kids never had anything bad to say about anyone. She always made me feel welcome and most of all I know she loved me too!! I'm tearing up right now typing!!!! One of my fondest memories of Aunt Sue was when my cousin Bruce was going to the skating Rink and I wanted to go but didn't have money she said your going and gave me the biggest bear hug... My Aunt sue was also very hard working. She worked all of her life... Aunt Sue you will be missed!!! Love ❤️ you very much Brian dale!

“ Some called her Marilyn, Sue, Pittman, Mom etc but I called her Granny! The most amazing soul you could've ever met! Beautiful in all ways! I remember being at your house like every weekend! From price chopper getting soda, block buster for our rental and playing out front while you bbqed! I remember prancing you by kicking over a ladder you thought I was painting on and when I realized I scared you to tears I felt horrible! From standing in lines to buy plus tickets to wrestling to falling asleep at concerts(I mean resting your eyes) you always showed us the love we needed. You were there for me in my darkest times and believed in me when no one else did. I may have disappointed you but you kept on me to prove others wrong! You will always be the queen of my heart! Do you remember all the rides to world of fun and how you hated that song gettin jiggy with it by Will Smith? I use to drive you crazy with it but you would dance and laugh with us. You never gave up on anyone and always had their backs. If it wasn't for you idk where my family would be. You have always been the glue that held it together. Remember our trips to Stl or Sedalia fair every year. Always getting us passports to worlds of fun even when one of the young grandsons decided to steal something and lose his you got him another one. When you caught the same grandson trying to steal fireworks and you pulled them out his pocket. I think you taught him the value of earning what you have big time that day. Whoever he is lol I use to call you when I needed advice because I felt no one would truly listen like you did. Life will not be the same without you but I am blessed I got the time with you I did. I love you so much and will miss you even more. Thanks for being a amazing grandmother and friend! Love you always and forever! Until I see you again! RIP Granny

“ Some people called her Marilyn, Sue, Pittman, Mom , aunt sue etc... but me I called her Granny! One of the best people to ever walk this earth. I remember many of weekends at grandmas house getting spoiled rotten. From hanging on the front porch while you BBQed to hot days at world of fun. You were there for so much! You taught me how to drive even though it was nerve wrecking for the both of us. How about when you fell asleep at a Backstreet Boys concert? Like who does that? But I know granny you were just resting your eyes. I remember a time I was painting the house outside the kitchen window, I kicked the ladder over, pretended to be hurt, I showed you it was a prank but it scared you so much you were crying. We use to stop on our way to your house every weekend to get a case of soda each and 1 block buster rental a piece. I remember when I found out you had breast cancer. It was devastating but I know if anyone could beat it you could! You never gave up on me and always believed I was a better person then what most though. You were there for some of my darkest days and pulled me out of the bottom too many times. You never judge me for anything I did even if it disappointed you. There are so many reasons I am thankful to have called you my granny but the main one is how unconventionally you loved! I feel sorry for anyone who never got the pleasure to meet you as you truly are heaven sent! Thank you for a lifetime of love granny. Until I see you again RIP
