Mike was a graduate of Fort Zumwalt High School. He and his wife were hard workers all their lives and worked more than one job to take care of their 3 children over the early years of their marriage. He was still employed at the time of his death for the city of Kansas City and had been a city worker for nearly 30 years in various positions such as airport maintenance, water department, storage room, and delivery. He also retired as a beer vendor, but had worked for 30 years at the Royals and Chiefs games and various venues in Kansas City. He worked as a security guard for Pepsi Corporation near Swope prior to his wife's death.

Mike enjoyed attending Royals games over the last couple of years and even made the Jumbotron on his birthday! He also had fun going to Monster truck events and even a Nascar race! He was an avid sports fan. He brought snow to the desert in Tucson, Arizona when he visited for the first time. This made him laugh at the irony. His children remember he could be sleeping, watching sports on TV, and listening to a baseball game on the radio all at the same time as evidenced by his response to the TV channel being changed, "I was watching that". He was a true family man making sacrifices when his kids were young to send them to Guardian Angels Catholic school, spending vacations visiting his mother and siblings, and working hard to give his family a life filled with laughter and lessons. He will be missed.

A gathering visitation service for his cremated ashes will be held at 11 am to 1pm on Saturday, December 31st at Muehlebach Funeral Home, 6800 Troost Ave, Kansas City, MO 64131.

The family wishes to extend their gratitude to Dr. Kehinde "Kenny" Morohunfolo who was Mike's primary care doctor for a few decades.
