“ Memories of Randy, where to begin from childhood being cousins in a big " Gieringer family " where spending time together every weekend at our grandparents home 8311 Wyoming. There was always food, cards, games, laughter, love. All day long often both Saturdays and Sundays. As we grew, I was older and role became as babysitter to the 4 youngest boy cousins at their home. As we grew mutual friendship. Randy became a perfectionist in all his endeavors. He was a role model for his younger brothers. He did things first then they would. This included both ends of the spectrum. They shared their love of outdoor sporting and recreational camping activities. He was strongly opinionated but open-minded and a good listener. He loved Diana more than anything in life. They were each other's Rock. Randy faced numerous health issues over his life and championed forward. As we aged life took us in different directions with less contact. We respect the way he faced adversity strongly and bravely. He fought in the game, battled and fulfilled his purposeful life here on Earth. We will see him again. Our memories will allow us to carry forward knowing Randy has won and is free of all health burdens. We as a family will Celebrate having become better people from having had Randy in our lives. ❤️
