“ I first met Raul when I first moved to Kansas City. I was a "Bouncer"/Door man at 2 clubs in Westport and he was Head of Security at a book store in Independence. I needed a second job and Raul hired for Security on the 11-7 shift. He was a truly awesome and amazing guy!! He treated everyone the same with the highest respect and always had a smile that would light up the darkest room. He wasn't only a boss to me because after a few short months our boss/employee relationship grew into a deep bonded friendship. He was like the big brother I wish I had and he accepted me into his circle of the and family. We had many adventures and experiences over the years since and I will deeply miss him and his beaming smile. May u rest in peace Raul and your soul be blessed. Good bye for now old friend and will see you again one day in God's Kingdom!!

“ Well-- this is really sad news. I met Raul in 1978 when I moved to KC. He was working as a chef. He was the most genuinely gentle nice person I had ever met. For the next 9 years he was a friend of mine and Jesse Magdeleno. We all went out to eat many times and Raul lived with us for a time in Kansas City. Raul was very diligent in working at the tortilla factory his parents owned. He always brought us some great tortillas. Raul still should have had many more years left in his life, but a higher power has taken him back. Jesse is gone too (also too soon). I was thinking about Raul the other day and I looked him up online to see if there could be a way to contact him. Then, I came across his obituary - I was too late to connect back with him. I will regret this for some time to come. RIP Raul
