Always Remember The love once shared
For now I must go home
Do not cry for me I know
I am not alone
I take your love with me...
As I have left my love with you
Together that unites us until
The days are through

“ Taking care of Bob was one of the greatest gifts of being a hospice nurse I have been given. He brought joy to my day always, we laughed and joked, there were tears at times, but always a gentleman and even until the end was trying to carry my bag to the car and oh the HUGS!! There were ALWAYS plenty of HUGS to go around! RIP Grandpa Bob.

“ While I did not get to meet Bob, I feel like I knew him through our conversations Sherrie. My love, hugs and prayers while you continue through this journey of life and death. Stay strong and know that you have support on many levels and that there is always a plan. Always here my friend. Best vibes, Staci

“ Bob would always make me smile or laugh. He would come into the hardware store and ask me where things were. One time he told me that he didn't like it when I wasn't there. Bob will be missed.
