

Roy Eugene Hamby

February 29, 1960 - December 17, 2014

Roy Hamby, born February 29, 1960, passed away December 17, 2014. Roy was a husband, father, grandfather, son, brother, uncle and friend. All of his loved ones know he is now pain-free, fishing every day and cheering on his beloved Chiefs louder now than ever before.

Previous Events

Memorial

DEC 20. 12:00 PM - 3:00 PM (CT)

Shawnee Park Christian Church
16500 Midland Drive
Shawnee, KS 66217

Tribute Wall

KS

“ Karen Swearingen lit a candle in memory of Roy Eugene Hamby

karen swearingen - December 20, 2014 at 03:42 PM

BD

“ Barb DeWitt lit a candle in memory of Roy Eugene Hamby

Barb DeWitt - December 19, 2014 at 07:04 PM

BD

Yellow candle for Roy is now free of pain. Our heart breaks for Pat and all of Roy's loved ones. Bob, Barb, Dawn, Erica, Kevin, Devon, Kailey

Barb DeWitt - December 19, 2014 at 07:08 PM

AH

“ Amy Hayden lit a candle in memory of Roy Eugene Hamby

Amy Hayden - December 19, 2014 at 05:26 PM

Topher
Clinton

“ I may not have always agreed with Roy, and we didn't always see eye to eye, but we did share some laughs and smiles. He cared a lot for me, my mom, and my family. I feared for this day and knew it would come way too soon, but alas I am happy is no longer in pain and no longer ill.

I know Pops will be cheering for the Chiefs louder than ever now!!

Topher Clinton - December 19, 2014 at 05:14 PM

CL

“ Roy, we will miss knowing you are with Nick and Patricia. We realize now that March was the last time we got to hug you. You were dearly loved by your family, many of us saw you so few times over the years once we stopped having Thanksgiving at Grandma Kathryn's. I will miss your voice most of all, I loved to hear you talk. Roy, I have letters you wrote me over 40 years ago. I don't know why I held on to them except I felt so inadequate to advise a teenager while being a young mother to such small children. You never believed it, but you were the sweetest young man, and my favorite photo of you is when you were at my house with Grandma Kathryn and Grandpa Norton. You were holding 2 year old Jason standing on my patio. Roy, you were a good man. We wish you and Nick (and, Patricia...) had made it down over the summer to go fishing with Uncle Lynton like we talked about back in March. Jason will be your fishing partner in Heaven until Nick walks out to join you both. Rest in God's peace, Roy.

Clyde - December 19, 2014 at 03:12 PM

JK

“ Seeing my little red headed nephew for the first time was awesome! I was so proud! Me - Aunt for the very first time! First child for my sister! First grandchild for my parents! Must say our family was a buzzing with this very special addition to our family. Roy will always hold that very special place in my heart that no one can take away. Prayer, loves & hugs. Aunt Jan

Jan Keller - December 19, 2014 at 03:07 PM

CC

“ Clyde & Sandy Conley lit a candle in memory of Roy Eugene Hamby

Clyde & Sandy Conley - December 19, 2014 at 02:43 PM

“ Patricia Hamby lit a candle in memory of Roy Eugene Hamby

Patricia Hamby - December 19, 2014 at 01:43 PM

“ My time with Roy was way too short and quite the ride! My love for him is forever and always. I will always cherish the time we did have together, the laughs, the tears, all of it. I am so very sad he is gone but I am thankful he is no longer in pain and ill. I love you, Babe.

*Your loving wife,
Patricia*

Patricia Hamby - December 19, 2014 at 10:52 AM