“ Hey beautiful I want you to know that the kids are doing well and now staying with your sister and brother. They are happy there and the schools are better for them and I think that you would be happy with the friends they have around them. I know that you are watching over them and they do to. Keep Katty Kay on the right side of things because I could not raise our daughter without your help and I am happy that they are with your family now rather than me. I did the best I could and it was about four years or so and I never found anyone to take your place. I am giving custody to Amy and Brian because it is better there and they need that support rather than trying to fight for no reason. I am not giving up just doing what is best for them and maybe I understand our last conversation a bit better now. I know I will see you again and I believe it will be much better the next time around. Send the kids all the love you can I am doing fine they need your love and not mine. I know that you can see us all and I believe you are just relaxing waiting for us to be able to truly tie the knot together this time. I love you with all my heart and the kids need your love and support. Later!

Your mother loved you with all of her heart and soul! You and your siblings were her world. You did everything you could and she knows it, I pray you know it as well.
Love my little Nicky.

“ Sarah you are so missed and loved by so many, you are always on my heart and I can't wait to see you again. Because Jesus lives, so will those that truly believe in the resurrection of Jesus the Christ the one and only true living God. I never really knew or understood what a strong young lady you were until I realized of what you had to endure for so many years. God bless you my dear daughter! I tell you that I love you everyday and will do till the day we meet in the kingdom...I love you, I love you, I love you!
