“ When I think of Tyler I think of the incredibly nice guy that he was. He would do anything for you. And WOW could he tell a story - so enthusiastic and animated- you experienced it with him when he told it! His laugh was infectious. Anyone who went to junior high and high school with Tyler, as I did, remembers how Tyler would give loving nicknames to friends and loved ones, some of which are still used today and will be forever. Tyler is and will be missed. And he is and will be remembered.

“ We lived across the street from Tyler when he was in grade school. He was always a sweet person. I loved to hear him tell stories because he was having as much fun telling it as we were listening to it.
May he rest in peace. And we will always remember him fondly.

“ Tyler, from the time I initially met you you were a little restrained, but once you got used to work with us you started opening up. Your sense of humor and sports knowledge always stood out. Your gregarious nature allowed you to befriend all you encountered. You became a friend, co-worker a Region 7 Logistician and a supporter to all.

Your love of your family and devotion to Debbie truly is something many should emulate. It has been hard since you left Tyler, it still hits hard when I really stop and think about it. You made an impact in all you worked with, were a master at customer service and bringing a laugh or smile to folks who needed it.

Rest easy my friend, we got the watch.

“ I had the honor to get to know Tyler in those quiet moments when he spoke of his family and his love for all of you.

He always owned who he was. Even the mistakes.

We can't turn back time, even as much as we want to, but Tyler can leave a beautiful legacy.

It's ingrained in all of us whose lives he touched. We will hear his laugh at those special moments. We will remember his incredible memory and love for history and sports, and his passion for cooking for all who would eat and participate in the gathering.

Personally I will never forget our conversations. Listening while he looked deep into the moment with the greatest sincerity and love for his family. I will never forget how he loved each and everyone of you. His legacy is the good and love we bring forward 🦋
