“ I still think of you often. You felt that you were meant to accomplish great things. But not even you could know that you weren't meant to accomplish them here on earth. Your purpose is bigger than anyone could have known. This life is so confusing, I know you have found your clarity. You are missed.
Every breaking wave by u2. Reminds me of you every time.

“ My dear friend, DeDe, I was trying to find you and in doing so I sadly found this memorial for your precious son instead. I cannot begin to understand or imagine your pain. I am so deeply sorry for your and Mike ' s loss, as well as the rest of all who loved Zach. I didn't have the privilege of knowing him, but from all the entries I've read about him he was a wonderful young man. Praying for you and your family. Much love, Lisa Byers Allen

“ I have not known zach as lonG as all of you have. In fact I had only known him a month or so. In that time we had talked about his faith and his respect for his father. We talked about the nature of a persons soul and how most people are not ready to see truth for what it is. Oddly deep conversations for two new acquaintances. That was just the kind of person zach was. I will miss our conversations. I do express my condolences to his family. I also wish to thank them, for helping to make zach what he was. Someone I feel blessed to have called friend.

“ Zach truly was a wonderful kind hearted young man. We use to spend hours talking about life in general. Out of the blue he would stop by the house to see Derek who was never home but instead he would settle for me to chat with. It just breaks my heart that he was taken so soon . I have never met anyone like Zach before so mature for his age and talked so highly of his family. My thoughts and prayers to Mike and Dee and all his siblings.

From this video, I gather that Zach was a very caring young man who just yearned for the simple life. So many people are looking for that very same thing. I've met Zach only a few times, and I believe the video fits him perfect. From the conversations I've had with him, he was just so down to earth, and showed much respect to others around him. He was a very friendly young man who seemed to love life and loved his family. My deep condolences to his mom, dad, and all his siblings. I know he will be greatly missed by all. Thank God for the memories. They will remain with you always.

“ Zach was a treasure to his family at Amarr. He had a presence that will last with every person who had the pleasure of calling him friend or in our case FAMILY. He was looked at as a little brother by his co-workers & our sons. As a son to John & I . He loved life & it showed in his smile. Your Texas family loves you & we will see you again young man. Until then carry on our soldier.
